A surprise call to Alf Mee on Wednesday Dec 10th '75, requested the presence of a Quartet at ..... GRANADA TV STUDIOS MANCHESTER the following day at 2-00pm!!

Who could go? After hurried 'phone calls, and a search for look - alike clothes, a Quartet from INGOL DISTRICT was formed. They were:-

JOHN ARKWRIGHT	-	LEAD
ALF MEE	-	BASS
TOM GREEN	-	BARITONE
JOE ALLAN	-	TENOR

So the 'INGOLEERS' arrived at Granada Studio's to warm up. Then catastrophe!! The pitch pipe had been forgotten, there wasn't even a piano.
A stage hand was dispatched to buy a pitch pipe. Back came the lad with a one note 'G' pipe, so Alf had to blow 'G' and creep to the right tuning note for 'Yes Sir, Thats My Baby'.

All went well chatting to 'Annie Walker' in the make-up room, even 'Hilda Ogden', 'Bette Lynch' and 'Len Fairclough' put the lads at their ease.

In no time, our INGOLEERS were on, having got their note and had to keep it humming throughout the introductory music ....not easy!! After only 10 to 12 Bars, the announcer Tony Wilson cut in to explain about our sing-out the following night at Kingsfold Methodist Church Hall.

Afterwards, the INGOLEERS relaxed over sandwiches and a couple of whiskys, and took some leg pulling from Norman Collier and Tom O'Connor. Alf gave the 'G' pitch pipe back to Tony Wilson, but Tony said to keep it as a souvenir. Expenses of £10 were received.
